AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of PATENTS
(Late Agent of U.S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)

NO. 76 STATE; of FOSITE ELEMY ST.,

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards
Act twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries.

Cavetts, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments and all Papers of Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Coples of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New Bugland, but through it inventors have adtwantages for securing patents, or sacertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by if not immeasurably superior to any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below give proof that none is MORE SUCOESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS. IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.
The immense practice of the subscriber durling wenty years past has enabled him to aceumlate a wast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to ontents. These besides his extensive library or legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superor facilities flor obtaining patents
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there are here saved inventors.

EDMUND BURKE, Lack Come issioner of Patents.
Boston, February 8, 1859.

"Mr. B. F. Eddy has made for me THIR-TEBN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistrakable proof of great talent and altility on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents. as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges.

The Platform.

The deliberations of the Committee appointed by the Democratic Convention at Charleston to draft a Platform, resulted in the production of two a majority and a minority Platform. On Monday the question was reached in regard to a Platform, and a decisive vote had, substituting that of the mineray (16) of the Committee of one from each State for that of the majority (17), by the decisive vote of Year 165 Nays, 188; Whole No. 303 (a full vote-Kanses not being admitted) : majority 27.

The vote was of course very nearly s wastional" one the majority (with few exceptions) consisting of most of the delegates from all the Free States (California and Oregon excepted), while the minority States (120) with still fewer exceptions, with the two States just named, and parts of the delegations from Pennsylvanic, New-Jersey, Massachuzetts, &c. In short, the division on this grave issue was very nearly on Mason & Dixon's famous line, which has not bitlerto been seen running straight through the heart of a Democratic Conven-

The Platform thus substituted by the Convention for that of the majority of its Platines Committee is as follows :

Resolved, That we, the Democracy of the Union, in Convention assembled, here-by declare our affirmation of the resolutions unanhiously adopted and declared as a platform of principles by the Democratic Convention at Cincinnati, in the year 1856, believing that Democratic principles are unchangeable in their nature when applied to the same subject matter; and we recommend as our only further r solutions the following:

[That, leasmuch as differences of opinion

That; leasmuch as differences of opinion exist in the Democratic party as to the nature and extent of the powers of a Territorial Legislature, and as to the powers and duties of Congress, under the Constitution of the United Btates, over the institution of Slavery within the Territories, Revolved, That the Democratic party will abide by the decision of the Suprems Court of the United States over the institution of Slavery within the Territories.]

Resolved, That it is the duty of the United States to afford ample and complete protection to all the observe, at home or protection to all its oftisens, at home or abroad, and whether native or foreign-born.

and the Democratic party piedge such con-situtional snactment; as will insure the construction of a railroad to the Pacific constant the earliest practicable period.

Resolved, That the Democratic part are in favor of the acquisition of the Islam of Cubs, on such terms as shall be honorable to ourselves and just to Spain.

Resolved, That the endotments of State

Legislatures to defeat the faithful execution of the Fugitive Slave Law, are hostile in character, subversive of the Constitution, and revolutionary in their effect.

(We believe that so much of the above as is placed in brackets [] was finally stricken out by the Convention, and so rejected.1

This Platform, it will be observed, is decidedly more Pro-Slavery than any one ver before adopted in any National Convention whatever.

PLAYING JOHN BROWN IN VIRGINIA. few days since, during a high wind, a large raft from the neighborhood of Pittsburgh, put into Point Pleasant, Virginia, for a harbor. It was the first time the crew of harbor. It was the first time the cive of the raft, bad ever been in the Old Domin-ion, and they soon imbibed whiskey enough to make them enterprising. Remember-ing that John Brown had immortaized himself by surprising the citizens of Harper's Ferry with twenty-three men, the rati-men concluded to at they could certainly take a small town like Point Pleasant with seven. About midnight, therefore, armed with bludgeons and such other munitions of war as they could muster, and headed fe rred to Committee on Finance: by a pand consisting of so one viole, a tin pea and a pair of bones, they sauntered forth in battle array. They marched about town for some time, making night hideous with their music and savage yells. Repoldened by their success, they demonstration with their arms, and procuring a piece of timber for a battering ram they assaulted without warning; the doors of the largest building in the place, the tavern, known as the Kline house.

They soon battered in the door, and rney soon battered in the door, and found themselves in possession of the halls and corridors. The inmates of the house were stoued and came out in a great state of alarm, some in their night clothes and some half dressed. On demanding and some hal dressed. On demanding what the intruders were after, the leader of the company declared that they intended to take the d -d town; that they were not to be captured so casily as John Brown, but could whip the whole State; that they were sailsfied that the Virginians could not and would not fort, and antions the not and would not light, and suiting the action to the word, was about to annihi-late the landlord and his three assistants. they were held at bay, however, till as sistance was sent for, and arrived when as defended with boulders, axes, &c., un til firearms were produced, when they were compelled to surrender unconditionally, were marched up to jail for the night, and next morning fined $3.50 cach and released.

Manufacture Continued In the Principle of the Principle o other places. Against this cridence we have nothing but the imaginary testimony of a sup-posed ghost calling himself Hypothendriac.

posed ghost calling himself hypotocourtee.

Hence the four words have not been written; not because some spirit believes that I should be unfaithful to my engagement, but because the existence of such pretended ghosts is a more prepoliterous fable, which would be unworthy of serious notice; were it not for the horrible evils which Spiritualism has produced. What I proposed, theo, cannot be done; Spir-itualism is confounded; and the replies of its advocates only show that many words can be employed when nothing is said.

Let us, then, reject the wild and baseless va-garies of Spiritualism, and govern our conduct in accordance with the following important truth, in regard to which the most intelligent individuals among Christians and Athoists most cordially agree. The order and harmony of the universe were produced by a great First Cause, which, operating in many respects like a Being of most admirable inteltigence, rewards the just and punishes the guilty, before life the just and punisars sinds. Yours respectfully, G. A. HANNETT.

THE WORLD'S UNREST .- There is restlessness and a fretfolness these days, which stand like two granite walls against godliness. Contentment is alinost neces-sary to godliness, and godliness is abso-lutely necessary to contentment. A very restless man will hever be a very godly man, and a godly man will never be a very restless man. "He still, and know that I med, and a serial, and know that I am God." THEGRAMS

TO TEE SAMMEL DAIL PROGRAM

The Charleston Convention. CHARLESTON, Monday, April 30, P. M.

The afternoon session of the Convention has been occupied in a spirited debate on principles, being an attempt to force upon the body the endorsement of the Dred Scott decision, with the promise, if this was done, of a rature of the secoding Southern States to their former position is the Convention. Much confusion prevailed. During a vote on some minor question, the Georgia delegation, or that portion of them not involved in the bolt, nine in number, were excluded from the privileges of the Convention, and less the Hall with the declaration that the Convention had diefranchised a sovereign State. The Convention then adjourned till 5 o'clock,

At the evening esssion, and previous to balloting, a resolution was passed, requiring that the President of the Convention shall not declare any one nominated for President or Vice President unless they shall have received two hundred and two votes or more. The passage of this reso-lution, (144 to 108) is regarded as fatal to Houghs.

The balloting then proceeded, the candidates being Douglas, Guthrie, Dickinson, Lane, Davis, Toucey, Pierce, and Joinson. There were tweive ballotings. On the second, Hunter was substituted for Pierce, who received but one vote, and Toucey disappearing altogether, he having received but 21-2. On the third b llot, Toucey was returned with the same result, after which he was entirely lost sight of. On the sight he was entirely lost sight of. On the sixth ballot, Davis was dropped, he having received but one vote at each ballot from the commencement, but was returned again on the seventh and retained to the end gaining half a vote on and after the ninih
